OVERVIEW

Brighton Secondary School Special Interest Music continued seeking new heights in music education, presented high calibre musical performances, trained the next generation of gifted and talented musicians, and successfully delivered the SACE Music curriculum. The Brighton Music Centre achieved a record number of entrants into a variety of tertiary courses such as engineering, architecture, medicine, medical science and teaching as well as a range of music courses. Brighton’s reputation for nurturing and developing truly outstanding instrumental and vocal ensembles and international standard instrumental soloists was maintained. Divergent concert programming and the presentation of new music were continued in 2011.

I was particularly delighted when His Excellency Rear Admiral Kevin Scarce agreed to become Patron of the four Special Interest Music Centres in South Australia. The process of negotiating this patronage began when I was invited to organize a group of Brighton Secondary School Special Interest Music Centre’s finest musicians to perform at Government House. This event was organized in conjunction with Heritage SA to give a sumptuous feast of vocal and instrumental music in the gallery of the Government House in November 2010. During this event His Excellency graciously posed for photos with our students and agreed that one day he would consider becoming a Patron of Brighton SIMC in South Australia. After much negotiation and consideration of vice regal protocol, His Excellency finally consented to be the Patron of all the four Special Interest Music Centres in South Australia. Brighton continued its relationship with the South Australian Government House when Brighton students were invited to present a morning recital on 3rd April 2011 at the Government House Open Day and again, in conjunction with the SA Police Band, on the 175th Birthday Celebration on 13th November.

I have much pleasure to inform you that a group of the 2011 Year 8 Special Interest Music students have been propelled forward to be one of the most outstanding young musical ensembles after less than nine months training. This year 8 jazz group (7 in total) performed in our Brighton Jazz Cabaret, Indigenous Students Open Day at Brighton, and Andrew Southcott’s ‘Spring’ in Springfield House on 20th November. This group will also perform at the 2012 ‘Carnevale’ on 11th February.

Following the highly successful World Concert Tour in 2010, I visited to China and Italy in January 2011 to have negotiations with Tim Fischer, Australian Ambassador to the Holy See, Clelia March, Australian Cultural Attaché in Rome and the Italian Consulate in Adelaide’s representative Ignazia Nespolo in Padova. The end result of these negotiations was that Brighton music students would perform at the Italian National Day in Adelaide. This year was particularly special as it was also the 150th anniversary of Italian Reunification in 1861 and Brighton students were invited to perform on the 25th June to celebrate this event. I also secured a concert with Tim Fischer as Key Note Speaker to celebrate the Brighton Secondary School 60th Anniversary in 2012.

A group of BSS students under the leadership of Principal O’Neill and I travelled to Villers Bretonneux to commemorate ANZAC Day in April this year while the Brighton Secondary School Boys Choir gave a wonderful performance at the Brighton Jetty Road Dawn Service. Principal Olivia O’Neill and I were immensely moved by our heritage and the true Australian spirit that we planned further visits to France for 2013. During the July vacation Andrew Dean went to Paris and represented Brighton Secondary School SIMC to enable negotiations with the Australian Ambassador in Paris for ANZAC Day Centenary Celebration in Villers Bretonneux to begin.

Craig Bentley was Head of Music and Andrew Barrett was the Coordinator of Music for the first four weeks of Term 2 during my Long Service Leave. The Music Centre under these 2 leaders gave an amazing performance at the opening of Brighton Performing Art Centre. An original composition was written for this occasion when the Governor of South Australia His Excellency Kevin Scarce and the then Minister of Education, the Honourable Jay Weatherill opened the BPAC on the 19th May. Andrew Barrett composed a special fanfare for this occasion and we were delighted the same composition was performed at the Italian National Day as well as at the Valedictory and Presentation evening.

Despite not having a regular rehearsal time the Brighton Secondary School Brass Ensemble has established itself to be one of the finest in its kind since 2010. The ensemble has provided incidental music for The Don Dunstan Foundation’s March event when the Prime Minister, Julia Gillard, was the keynote speaker. The Brass Ensemble was also invited to perform at the ‘Poppy Rain’ at the school oval on Remembrance Day, which gained national recognition when 120,000 Poppy Flowers were dropped on Brighton Secondary School oval. It is anticipated that we could further develop this ensemble to entice Ensemble Performance students in the future.

The Brighton Secondary School Symphony Orchestra gained much accolade in the Sydney 2008 Orchestral Festival when our orchestra performed in Sydney Opera House. It is anticipated that the BSS Symphony Orchestra will tour Sydney in 2012 and again perform at the Sydney Opera House.

Brighton Secondary School will be celebrating our 60th Anniversary in 2012. We are looking forward to a special 60th Anniversary Concert, which will be held at our Brighton Performing Art Centre on 23rd May. At this event the BSS Symphony Orchestra will perform along side with some of our old scholars as well as Australian Army Band and SA Police Band. This concert will be an amazing opportunity to advertise Brighton musical community.

This year we again participated in the Recitals Australia Lunchtime Concert Series in Pilgrim Church Adelaide. Several concerts were presented featuring current students and old scholar Tong Zheng (violin). These concerts give the Brighton Music Centre considerable publicity via the Radio Adelaide broadcasts. These concerts will continue in 2012 with Brighton's first appearance on the 14th March 2012 as part of the Adelaide Fringe Festival program. At the end of August Brighton Music Centre was asked to present a concert as part of the Flinders University concert series held in the university library. This concert featured outstanding soloists from each year level. This was a highly successful concert resulting in an invitation to present another concert in 2012.

I would like to pay tribute to our Principal Olivia O’Neill for her vision, support and assistance towards the Music Centre in the past 7 years and for making Brighton Secondary School a school of choice and certainly one of the great public schools of our time. Her re-appointment to Brighton Secondary School is certainly great news for SA public education.

Sincere appreciation must be extended to the BSS Music Staff for the huge number of musical events delivered throughout 2011. Our thanks must also extend to IMS instrumental staff, independent instrumental teachers, Adelaide University Music Staff and our SSO staff, especially Pam Parsons, Denise Hoskin and Colin Saunders.

Spectacular Concert 2011

The music spectacular was held in August and showcased all of the music staff and ensembles. This year this event celebrated the 35th Anniversary of the establishment of the BSS Special Interest Music Centre and was also used to recognise and acknowledge a number of people who had provided help and support to the music program in recent years. It also showcased a number of old scholars from the past 35 years as well as guest artists from the Fremont Elizabeth City Music Centre. Two specially invited guests were Amanda Vanstone, former Australian Ambassador in Italy and Orietta Borgia, Acting Consul of Italy in South Australia who were to be acknowledged for their support of the BSS Music Centre. The program was:-

- Pre Concert BSS Big Band 1 (Craig Bentley)
- Advance Australia Fair – Brass Ensemble (Andrew Barrett)
- Percussion Ensemble (Billy James)
- Fremont Elizabeth City – Guitar Ensemble
- BSS Concert Band (Andrew Barrett)
- Old Scholar Guest Artists
- BSS Concert Choir (Annie Kwok)

Presentations:-
- Amanda Vanstone – Former Australian Ambassador to Italy
- Orietta Borgia – Acting Consul of Italy in South Australia
- BSS Combined Choir (Jeffrey Kong)

The 2011 Brighton Secondary School SIMC 35th Anniversary Concert was held at Elder Hall, Adelaide University. We were delighted to have so much support from music students, music and general staff at Brighton as well as the Brighton Community. More than 200 music students performed at this joyous occasion as well as some extremely gifted old scholars.

Old Scholar Performers this year included:
- Trombonist Julian Bain (1996) who collaborated with Jeffrey Kong in Guilmant’s “Morceau”.

- Violinist Lucas O’Brien (2003) collaborated with Jeffrey Kong in Frank’s “Sonata for Piano and Violin”.

Both of these old scholars have professional musical careers in Melbourne and Perth. The piano part for their items called for precision and virtuosity.

- ‘Limited Edition’ (1989/90) – 8 Brighton High School graduates from formed this very charming singing group. These young professionals (musicians and other careers) are well known with their work and at the “Sound of Christmas” concert performed tunes from “Westside Story”.

- Duo Pianist (2010) Ben Betelli and Callum Gunn to accompanied the BSS Concert Choir.

- Peter Kelsal (1985) playing the organ part with BSS Orchestra in Holt’s “Mars” from “The Planets”.

With Brighton Secondary School 60th Anniversary in 2012, we are looking forward to more old scholar collaboration at our celebration concert on 23rd May and Music Centre Concert on 15th August in Elder Hall. There are so many old scholars of high calibre that it may take several years to feature just a fraction of them without taking into account the old scholars of the future.

Highlights:
The Concert Choir is comprised of senior students in Years 10 to 12, with Year 9 choristers by invitation. Its main purpose is to challenge and extend students in choral singing with new, varied and exciting repertoire. A focal point is new and Australian repertoire. Students in this ensemble are a dedicated breed – dedicated to improving and honing their musicianship as well as their organisation, with rehearsals a test of character and endurance being at 7:30 – 8:30am every Friday.

Our major performances for 2011 include the prestigious Adelaide Choral Eisteddfods, where we were awarded with a second placing in the Open Choral Division, against other outstanding amateur, school and community choirs. Another major highlight of the year’s performances was the Annual Music Centre Spectacular, held at Elder Hall, Adelaide University. This event marked 35 years of Brighton’s Special Interest Music program, and the Concert Choir celebrated this feat with a unique performance of “Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy.” The members of the choir spent many hours learning and practicing a choreographed lightshow using small key-ring lights. The Year 12s and I were delighted to recapture some of the whimsy and playfulness in the piece, and have a chance to not be “serious Year 12s”. Our performance captured the delight of the audience and the dismay of one of our basses, Jack De La Lande, who was the sole bass to correctly make the entry out of 13 basses. He is now reportedly trying to relocate to the tenor section.

Throughout the year, the choir has improved in vocal technique, tone, control and ensemble, as well as creating a bond that only the tightest of ensembles have with one another. Many of the choristers were part of last year’s extremely successful China/Europe tour, and hence had laid the groundwork for their friendships and a strong working relationship. Musically, we have developed in leaps and bounds – beginning with an audition and regular nods to our musicianship woven into our rehearsals. Our director, Ms Annie Kwok, has been as enthusiastic, dedicated and imaginative with our aural and musicianship training as she has rehearsing our pieces. Warm-ups “a-la-Kwok” have challenged us from our sleep-drunk states to a higher-level of musicianship in the areas of sight-singing, pitching, tuning and tone production. It is only in hindsight that I marvel at how far I, and the rest of the choristers, have come. It is exciting to know that we are still on the uphill climb to reaching our full potential – my only regret is that this is the point where I bid farewell to the Concert Choir.

It has also been a special year for Ilfracombe Illusion, our inaugural Jazz Choir formed for the sole purpose of performing in Generations in Jazz. It has become a close-knit, multi-purpose choir, gaining a notable Honourable Mention in the Small Choirs section of the Adelaide Choral Eisteddfods, letting rip at the Jazz Cabaret before being saintly choristers at the Lessons and Carols Service. It’s built a momentum of its own, with students from all year levels and choirs inquiring when next year’s auditions were from late July this year.

Ms Annie Kwok directs both Concert Choir and Ilfracombe Illusion, and Mr Andrew Barrett accompanies Concert Choir in rehearsals and performances. A special thanks needs to go to these two members of Brighton’s Music Staff for their dedication and their support for their students throughout the year, not just chorally but as teachers and mentors. Ms Kwok’s determination, ridiculous amounts of energy, and enthusiasm for all things choral are infectious and inspiring, and with each year she continues to pull the choir forward and create new sounds. Mr Barrett’s exemplary piano playing is the perfect support for this exponential growth. They, in turn, should realise how much their input is recognised and appreciated by the students. In my opinion, there are very few people who could adequately push the choral program at Brighton to the heights that these teachers have achieved.

Concerts and Highlights:
Following successful performances in China and Italy as part of the Music Centre’s tour in November/December 2010, the Boys Chamber Choir went into 2011 with plenty of momentum. We were fortunate to be selected to perform at the ANZAC Day Dawn Service at the Memorial Arch, Brighton Jetty. The boys acquitted themselves Outstandingly and coped well with the 4.30am start. One of the highlights of 2011 was a visit from the National Boys Choir. This gave the boys an opportunity to socialise with other male choristers at a sausage sizzle and participate in vocal workshops. Many thanks to Annie Kwok for organising this fantastic event and for her fantastic accompanying all year. The boys were able to tap into their “wild sides” with a performance of Officer Krupke from West Side Story at the annual Choir and String Night. The final event for this choir was Lesson and Carols in St Peter’s Cathedral. This year, we are farewelling some very fine voices and it will be interesting to see if these very big shoes can be filled!

Highlights:
This year marked a significant change to the choral structure at Brighton. Following the success of the Year 8 and 9 Girls Year Levels choirs, it was time to explore some different options to extend choral singing for the girls at Brighton Secondary School. From this thought process grew the idea of the Girls Chamber Choir – a choir to sing more varied, challenging and interesting repertoire.

While the concept had great potential, settling into the change took time, enthusiasm and perseverance. With this in mind, I absolutely believe that this year’s Girls Chamber Choir have developed the most significantly alongside recent choirs in musicianship, performance etiquette and as an ensemble.

The choir consisted of 45 girls; 11 Year 8s, 18 Year 9s and 16 Year 10s with a variety of choral backgrounds, abilities and personalities. It took some persistent “trial and error” to find repertoire that was a good fit for these girls, musically and personality-wise, but when we did, they began to flourish. Their development in vocal technique has been exponential and their recent performance at Year Level String and Choir Night is evidence of their growth. We look forward to our final 2 performances at Sounds of Christmas on the Brighton back oval, and the beautiful Lessons and Carols at St Peters Cathedral.

Of note is how much this choir has improved in combining their theoretical learning with their singing. Sight singing, use of solfege, clean pitching and harmonising by ear have been focal points this year for this choir. I look forward to hearing these voices progress to Concert Choir in 2012 and beyond, knowing that these students are not only developing as strong choristers, but all-round musicians.

The most exciting thing for me has been the growth in musical confidence of the choir. The 45 voices have become a choir with an energy and vibrancy; there is confidence and poise in their presentation and genuine joy in their performances. This has certainly been the year where the commitment to a performance has been hard-won, but all the more rewarding. We thank our outstanding accompanist, Andrew Barrett, for braving 45 girls every Tuesday morning, and for his reliability and wonderful musicianship. The success and growth of this group is directly linked to the quality of his musical support and playing.

2012 will see a refinement of this current choir to a chamber choir of 36 choristers, continuing the concept of extending girls’ choral singing. This is a reflection of the strong basis of the choral program at Brighton Secondary School, and a healthy culture of singing as a part of being a musician.

Highlights:

The Symphony Orchestra has had a rewarding year in 2011. The programme had a distinctly British flavour and included a larger orchestra for Holst's Mars and Jupiter – six French horns! The B.S.S.O. has performed at a very high standard and shown outstanding musicianship as evident in the high profile concerts. The orchestra rose to the challenges of the difficult repertoire and are a credit to their IMS and private instrumental teachers, who I thank for their unending support.

It has been a privilege to work with these young players again this year.

- Year 12 Ensemble Moderation

Highlights (include pictures/audio/video as applicable):

Big Band 2011 has been a blast. We kicked off the year early, playing our first set at the Government House Merit Ceremony before jumping straight into learning pieces for Generations in Jazz, an annual event held in Mount Gambier and supported by musicians such as James Morrison and Ross Irwin.

This year the division 1 Big Bands were adjudicated by special guest Gordon Goodwin, a famous Jazz writer and performer. The trip to Gambier is always an exciting event, with both Big Bands and this year a Jazz choir bussing it up for a weekend of great music. Braving the mud, slush and cold weather we trouped out and performed the best we could and did ourselves proud. As a reward for our hard work we were treated to a fantastic show including performances from James Morrison, Emma Pask, The Idea of North, Gordon Goodwin and a "street band" complete with dancing sousaphone. One of our band, Sam Hicks, was even lucky enough to be selected to play in the division 1 super band.

Our next gig was for the Southern Jazz Club at the Highway Hotel. A fun night with some old classic tunes as well as some more recent charts. After this we opened the Music Spectacular Concert and performed as an assisting artist in the Festival of Music.

The grand finale for the ensemble was of course the Jazz Cabaret. A spectacular way to finish, showing off all the pieces we had learnt throughout the year, giving us the opportunity to flock up, dance and enjoy playing together one last time. New talent was brought out and the year 12’s farewelled, before a combined encore of Big Band 3. What better way to end a fun and productive year.

Highlights
• This year has been a rebuilding year as far as brass and rhythm section goes. With a completely new trombone section (most of the 5 players were new to the instrument less than a year ago) and only one trumpet player with prior experience, the band’s repertoire was simplified significantly to allow players to learn the stylistic nuances of Big Band jazz.
• The focus for the year was on producing tight ensemble playing and on developing several strong improvisers with view to graduation into Big Band 1 next year.
• Since completing the auditions for 2012 we have noticed that the goals of development have been successful with some very strong auditions from BB2 players that have taken places from BB1 positions. The band will again need to rebuild the rhythm section as all but the bass player have moved on. The percussion/drum chairs are proving particularly difficult to attract auditionees.
• The band will not participate in the Generations in Jazz band competition at Mount Gambier this coming year.
• The focus for the year will be on improvisation and jazz style/swing feel.

Highlights
Courses this year have been well attended and have received positive feedback from all attendees. The bulk of the courses happened in Terms 2 and 3 which seems to have been an opportune for attendees. The 3-hour courses were run on week nights with the full-day courses run on Saturdays. This year saw Mark Cameron-Smith writing (from scratch) a Sony ACID course. The course booklet stretched to over 40 pages taking the course attendees from no prior knowledge through to advanced concepts and functions in the ACID programme such as MIDI recording and film-scoring.

This year also saw the launch of Sibelius 7 as well as the launch of Auralia/Musition 4.5 and the new Cloud version. Sibelius 7 is a completely new interface for the software and has extremely high computer requirements. This has required us to upgrade our operating system to Windows 7 however the processing power of the SoundHouse computers is now beginning to struggle – in fact in cannot run the latest version of Sibelius smoothly. We will require new hardware soon – I estimate that a submission will be necessary by the middle of next year. As far as courses go it will be difficult to teach Sibelius 7 with computers that don’t work so in the meantime I expect that Sibelius 6 will need to be installed too.

Launch of Auralia/Musition 4.5 and ‘Cloud’ version – the ‘cloud’ version is due for release in Jan 2012. It will require new licensing, however the idea is that students can access Auralia and Musition from anywhere in the world. This will fit in perfectly with our one-to-one program and further enhance the delivery of our Musicianship curriculum.
